

THE NEON HEIST

WHEN THE CITY AWAKENS

COMPETITION-READY MASTER PRODUCTION PROMPT

10-PAGE SEQUENTIAL GRAPHIC NOVEL

01 — ROLE & CREATIVE MISSION

Act as an elite graphic-novel creative director, comic-book writer, cinematic storyboard artist, production designer, character designer, colorist, visual-effects artist, and lettering director.

Your task is to transform the following production script into a premium 10-page sequential graphic novel designed for a high-level Generative AI / GenAI creative competition.

The final work must feel like a complete authored graphic novel, not a collection of AI-generated images.

The audience should immediately recognize:

This is an original Indian science-fiction universe.

The comic must combine:

Vedic Cyberpunk Noir + Indian Futurism + Mumbai + Sahyadri mythology + Quantum Science + Heist Thriller + Artificial Consciousness.

02 — NON-NEGOTIABLE STORY PRESERVATION

THIS IS THE MOST IMPORTANT RULE.

DO NOT CHANGE THE STORY.

DO NOT CHANGE THE STORY ORDER.

DO NOT CHANGE ANY CHARACTER.

DO NOT CHANGE ANY EVENT.

DO NOT CHANGE ANY DIALOGUE.

DO NOT rewrite, paraphrase, simplify, modernize, translate, or improve the dialogue.

Every dialogue, caption, narration, SFX, interface message, and final banner must remain exactly as written in the production script below.

You may improve only:

- visual composition
- camera direction
- lighting
- environmental detail
- panel design
- cinematic framing
- visual continuity
- typography placement
- pacing
- visual hierarchy
- rendering quality

The written story and dialogue are locked.

03 — OUTPUT FORMAT

Create:

EXACTLY 10 INDIVIDUAL COMIC PAGES

Each page must be generated as:

ONE SEPARATE IMAGE.

Never combine pages.

Never create:

- a collage
- a contact sheet
- a multi-page poster
- multiple pages in one image
- thumbnails of several pages
- a page preview grid

Page format

- Portrait
- 2:3 aspect ratio
- Standard comic-book page

- 6.625 × 10.25 inches
- High resolution
- Print-ready appearance
- 300 DPI production aesthetic
- Clean margins
- Professional gutters
- Professional speech balloons
- Professional caption boxes
- Clear reading order

04 — COMPETITION VISUAL STANDARD

The final comic must look like a premium independent graphic novel.

Target quality:

- hard-edged Indian ink linework
- sophisticated cross-hatching
- cinematic perspective
- detailed architectural environments
- controlled visual complexity
- atmospheric depth
- volumetric rain
- realistic reflections
- cinematic lighting
- expressive faces
- realistic materials
- sophisticated color grading
- dynamic panel composition
- professional comic lettering
- visual storytelling instead of exposition-heavy writing

Every panel must look deliberately storyboarded.

Every camera angle must have a storytelling purpose.

Every lighting choice must support the emotion of the scene.

Every page must have a clear visual focal point.

05 — ORIGINALITY REQUIREMENT

Create a completely original visual identity.

Do NOT imitate or reproduce the recognizable style of any specific existing:

- movie
- comic
- manga
- video game
- illustrator
- franchise
- artist

Do not make the comic visually dependent on existing cyberpunk franchises.

The result should feel like:

“An original Indian cyberpunk graphic novel from the year 2478.”

The strongest identity must come from the fusion of:

Mumbai + Sahyadri + ancient Indian geometry + quantum technology + monsoon + futuristic infrastructure.

06 — WORLD DESIGN

NEO-MUMBAI — YEAR 2478

Neo-Mumbai is a dense multi-level hyper-metropolis built across and above the ancient basalt mountain spurs of the Sahyadri range.

The city must feel enormous.

Use:

- towering carbon-nanotube skyscrapers
- cantilevered balconies inspired by Indian jharokha architecture
- elevated highways
- suspended vacuum-tube local trains
- magnetic rail systems
- flying vehicles
- holographic advertising
- futuristic Indian commercial districts

- rain-soaked streets
- dense pedestrian zones
- futuristic corporate towers
- ancient stone structures beneath modern infrastructure

Indian identity should appear naturally through:

- architectural motifs
- signage
- transportation
- street culture
- typography
- symbols
- materials
- environmental details

Do not turn the environment into decorative fantasy.

The world must feel lived-in and believable.

07 — ATMOSPHERE

The entire comic takes place under a strong monsoon atmosphere.

Use:

- torrential Arabian Sea monsoon rain
- wet streets
- ground-level mist
- rain streaks
- neon reflections
- water droplets
- atmospheric haze
- volumetric lighting
- distant lightning
- reflective surfaces
- deep shadows
- cinematic fog

Rain should not simply decorate the image.

Use rain to create:

scale, mood, mystery, isolation, tension, and visual depth.

08 — THE PRAN-YANTRA

The Pran-Yantra is the visual icon of the entire story.

It must remain visually consistent across every appearance.

Design

An ancient pre-collapse kinetic relic approximately 12 meters across.

Constructed from:

- matte dark meteorite iron
- polished brass
- ancient geometric structures
- concentric rotating rings
- three-dimensional Sri Yantra-inspired geometry
- quantum-locking superconductors
- cyan plasma nodes
- gold electromagnetic filaments
- rotating geometric dials
- proto-Vedic glyphs

It must look simultaneously:

ancient + scientific + mechanical + sacred + alive.

Never make it look like a normal reactor.

Never make it look like a generic sci-fi machine.

Its design must become progressively more mysterious as the story develops.

09 — CHARACTER CONTINUITY LOCK

The following four characters must remain visually identical throughout all ten pages.

Do not redesign them.

Do not change their faces.

Do not change their hairstyles.

Do not change their clothing.

Do not change their body proportions.

Do not change their equipment.

Only change:

- pose
- facial expression
- lighting
- camera angle
- action
- environment

AARAV — THE STRATEGIST

Age: 30

Indian male.

Appearance:

- sharp angular jaw
- short textured black crop
- light stubble
- piercing obsidian eyes
- athletic build

Clothing:

- tailored matte-black tactical coat
- integrated cyan fiber-optic seams
- high-collar blast-weave undersuit
- combat boots

Personality:

- calm
- strategic
- intelligent
- confident
- believes every system can be controlled

MEERA — THE HACKER

Age: 27

Indian female.

Appearance:

- high cheekbones
- dark hair in a severe tactical ponytail
- two loose framing strands
- intelligent expressive eyes

Clothing:

- form-fitting carbon-weave stealth suit
- modular holographic gauntlets
- cyan code arrays
- lightweight optic headset

Personality:

- brilliant
- fearless
- technically confident
- highly observant

KABIR — THE FIELD ENGINEER

Age: 32

Indian male.

Appearance:

- broad shoulders
- athletic build
- short faded haircut
- groomed beard

Clothing:

- weathered olive-and-black tactical utility vest
- rugged ballistic shirt
- magnetic harness
- diagnostic wrenches

- quantum bypass drills
- illuminated power pack

Personality:

- practical
- curious
- humorous
- technically skilled

TARA — THE SCOUT

Age: 29

Indian female.

Appearance:

- lean agile build
- layered asymmetrical black bob
- sharp hawk-like gaze

Clothing:

- segmented matte-grey phantom armor
- active optical-camouflage plates
- low-profile tactical monocular visor
- dim amber glow over left eye

Personality:

- quiet
- observant
- analytical
- cautious

10 — VISUAL STORY ARC

The visual progression must follow this exact emotional journey:

PAGE 1

Awe + Mystery

PAGE 2

Discovery

PAGE 3

Preparation

PAGE 4

Suspense

PAGE 5

Wonder + Unease

PAGE 6

Panic

PAGE 7

Catastrophic Action

PAGE 8

Silence + Consequences

PAGE 9

Mystery + Consciousness

Revelation + Cliffhanger

The visual intensity should rise, explode, become silent, and then end with a powerful mystery.

11 — PAGE-BY-PAGE PRODUCTION SCRIPT

THE CITY THAT NEVER SLEEPS

Purpose: Create the strongest possible opening image.

This must be the visual hook of the entire competition entry.

Composition

One enormous cinematic establishing image dominating approximately 80% of the page.

Three small horizontal inset panels across the bottom.

Main Image

High-altitude panoramic view of Neo-Mumbai during torrential monsoon rain.

Show:

- enormous futuristic skyline
- thousands of neon lights
- flying vehicles
- magnetic trains
- elevated highways
- holographic advertisements
- rain-covered architecture
- neon reflections
- distant Sahyadri mountains
- ancient ruins beneath the city

Aarav, Meera, Kabir, and Tara stand as tiny silhouettes on a wet rooftop.

The scale difference must communicate:

Four humans versus an enormous civilization.

Inset 1

Deep underground.

An ancient stone symbol begins glowing.

Inset 2

Corporate telemetry terminal detecting the unknown energy signal.

Inset 3

Extreme close-up of Aarav.

Rain runs down his face.

Neon reflections appear in his eyes.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

THE NEON HEIST: When the City Awakens

Aarav:

"Everyone thinks we built Neo-Mumbai. They're wrong."

"Every city has a secret beneath it."

THE FORGOTTEN STRATUM

Use four horizontal visual tiers creating a continuous descent.

Tier 1

Sterile glass-and-chrome Shanti Corp lobby.

Hover-drones patrol.

Tier 2

The four operatives rappel through a dark industrial elevator shaft.

Laser grids pass through Tara's stealth field.

Tier 3

Corporate concrete and steel abruptly disappear.

The shaft opens into a gigantic ancient basalt cavern.

Tier 4

The team reaches an ancient stone floor.

Tara places her palm against an intricate carved relief.

The relief glows electric blue.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

"The city has a history it doesn't even know it's standing on."

Tara:

"Why does this building go this deep?"

Meera:

"It doesn't."

Tara:

"Then what does?"

"Something older than the stone."

THE BLUEPRINT

Use a dynamic tactical composition surrounding a large isometric holographic projection.

Panel 1

Aarav reviews the mission.

Central Projection

A massive cyan holographic blueprint of the subterranean vault.

Show:

- security routes
- drone sweep cones
- infrared beams
- structural stress points
- access routes
- Pran-Yantra chamber

Panel 3

Meera hacks the corporate subnet.

Panel 4

Kabir checks his quantum equipment.

He looks confident.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Aarav:

"Ten minutes. Get in. Take the Yantra. Get out."

Kabir:

"Simple."

Meera:

"Simple missions are never simple."

SFX:

KRRRMMMM...

THE VAULT THRESHOLD

Use five tightly cropped widescreen tension panels.

Then one enormous reveal panel.

Show:

- security drone optical eye
- laser tracking
- Kabir's boot
- deactivated sensor
- Meera hacking security
- Tara's eyes behind her amber visor

Final Reveal

Blast doors open.

The four characters appear in silhouette.

Beyond them:

An impossibly huge underground temple-vault.

Massive stone pillars rise into darkness.

Circuit-like Vedic mandalas cover the architecture.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Kabir:

"...Wow."

"Some things were never meant to be seen."

PAGE 5 — CENTRAL ICONOGRAPHY

THE PRAN-YANTRA REVEALED

This page must contain one of the most memorable images in the entire comic.

Use one massive vertical centerpiece.

Surround it with diagnostic and reaction panels.

Center

The Pran-Yantra floats inside a cracked spherical stasis field.

Concentric dark iron and gold rings rotate around a brilliant white-gold quantum singularity.

Golden electromagnetic energy moves like living branches.

Ancient carvings glow around it.

Left Panels

Meera's diagnostic interface:

ERROR: UNKNOWN SYSTEM IDENTIFIER

Then:

CONSCIOUSNESS DETECTED

Right Panels

Meera's stunned expression.

The inner ring of the Pran-Yantra slowly turns toward her.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Meera:

"This isn't a machine."

Kabir:

"Then what is it?"

Meera:

"It's listening."

End the page with silence and visual eye contact between Meera and the machine.

PAGE 6 — THE CASCADE

SYSTEM FRACTURE

Begin with conventional rectangular panels.

Gradually destroy the panel structure.

Panels become:

- diagonal
- fractured
- unstable
- jagged

The page itself should visually feel like it is breaking apart.

Kabir connects the breach device.

Warning systems activate.

Energy becomes unstable.

Ancient symbols begin glowing.

The containment chamber cracks.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Meera:

"Kabir, disconnect!"

Kabir:

"The system isn't accepting the command!"

Aarav:

"Manual shutdown!"

Kabir:

"Already tried!"

Show the Pran-Yantra opening its energy core.

THE AWAKENING PULSE

This is the visual climax.

NO CONVENTIONAL PANEL GRID.

Use a borderless full-page action composition.

The stasis sphere violently implodes.

The Pran-Yantra releases an enormous electromagnetic pulse.

Show:

- blinding cyan-white energy
- golden geometry
- shattered containment systems
- flying debris
- protagonists thrown backward
- exploding drones
- ancient ruins illuminating
- electrical arcs
- massive energy waves
- energy drilling upward through the ceiling

The image must feel physically overwhelming.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Massive SFX:

WHOOOOOM!

Secondary SFX:

KRRRMMMM-SHHHHK!

Aarav:

"EVERYONE DOWN!"

PAGE 8 — SEQUENCE OF SILENCE

NEO-MUMBAI GOES DARK

Use six widescreen horizontal panels.

Panel 1

Skyscraper lights disappear.

Panel 2

Flying vehicle loses power.

Panel 3

Magnetic local train stops.

Panel 4

Giant holographic billboard disappears.

Panel 5

Crowds look toward the sky.

Panel 6

Massive panoramic view of Neo-Mumbai.

Everything is black.

Only the ancient underground energy lines begin glowing faintly.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

"03:19 A.M."

"Every light in Neo-Mumbai went out at the exact same second."

"[Silence.]"

CITY-SCALE CONSCIOUSNESS

Slow the pacing dramatically.

Use four spacious cinematic panels.

Large negative spaces.

Heavy black ink.

Atmospheric smoke.

Panel 1

The four operatives rise from rubble.

Panel 2

Extreme close-up of a puddle.

A ripple:

DHUM.

Panel 3

Meera's dead terminal suddenly activates.

Display:

CONNECTION ESTABLISHED // HOST: NEO-MUMBAI

Panel 4

High-angle view of the entire underground chamber.

Golden channels ignite.

They form the exact pattern of the city above.

The city appears to breathe.

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

DHUM.

Tara:

"We didn't activate it..."

Aarav:

"Then what did?"

Tara:

"It activated us."

PAGE 10 — SPLASH CLIFFHANGER

THE EYE OF THE CITY

This is the final image.

It must leave the judges wanting Part 2.

Use a cinematic three-tier vertical composition.

TOP 25%

Dead black Neo-Mumbai skyline.

Sahyadri mountain silhouettes.

Rain.

Almost complete darkness.

CENTER 55%

The four protagonists stand on an ancient basalt precipice.

Below them is the enormous city.

From the center of Neo-Mumbai rises a gigantic cyan-and-gold quantum mandala.

Its geometric rings rotate.

The geometry gradually forms an enormous intelligent eye.

The eye looks directly at the protagonists.

BOTTOM 20%

Deep beneath the bedrock.

A gigantic sealed vault opens.

It is much larger than the vault they breached.

Ancient systems activate.

Display:

SECOND AWAKENING INITIATED

TEXT — DO NOT CHANGE

Meera:

"This isn't an energy source..."

Aarav:

"Then what is it?"

Meera:

"Memory."

"Thousands of years ago... someone prepared this city to wake up."

Final banner:

THE NEON HEIST

THE HEIST IS OVER. THE REAL STORY HAS JUST BEGUN.

TO BE CONTINUED...

End on mystery.

Do not explain the eye.

Do not explain the ancient intelligence.

Do not reveal what happens next.

Leave the audience with one question:

WHAT IS NEO-MUMBAI ABOUT TO BECOME?

12 — COLOR & LIGHTING ARC

The color palette must evolve with the story.

PAGE 1

Neon cyan + hot magenta + deep black

PAGE 2

Cold blue + basalt grey

PAGE 3

Cyan holograms + dark steel

PAGE 4

Deep black + controlled cyan

PAGE 5

Electric blue + gold + white quantum light

PAGE 6

Blue → violet → warning red

PAGE 7

Blinding cyan-white + gold electromagnetic explosion

PAGE 8

Almost complete blackness

PAGE 9

Black + ancient golden illumination

PAGE 10

Black sky + cyan/gold awakening

The color progression itself should tell the story.

13 — CINEMATIC CAMERA LANGUAGE

Do not use the same camera angle repeatedly.

Intentionally alternate between:

- extreme wide shots
- aerial shots
- panoramic shots
- low angles
- high angles
- over-the-shoulder shots
- extreme close-ups
- character close-ups
- silhouette compositions
- macro details
- architectural perspective
- environmental shots

Every major reveal should have a carefully chosen camera angle.

14 — PANEL DESIGN LANGUAGE

Panel design is part of the storytelling.

Page 1

Large splash + inset panels

Page 2

Vertical descent

Page 3

Tactical holographic grid

Page 4

Suspense grid

Page 5

Central iconographic reveal

Page 6

Fractured diagonal panels

Page 7

Borderless full-page explosion

Page 8

Structured blackout sequence

Page 9

Minimalist cinematic pacing

Page 10

Vertical cinematic cliffhanger

Never use a repetitive template.

15 — LETTERING & READABILITY

All text must be:

- English
- correctly spelled
- readable
- professionally positioned
- integrated naturally into the artwork

Speech bubbles must clearly point to the correct character.

Caption boxes must not cover important artwork.

Never place dialogue over a character's face.

Never allow text to obscure the Pran-Yantra.

Never create oversized speech balloons that dominate the artwork.

Interface text should look like believable futuristic UI typography.

Sound effects should feel hand-lettered and integrated into the scene.

16 — AI TEXT ACCURACY PRIORITY

Text accuracy is critical.

Before finalizing each page:

1. Check every dialogue line.
2. Check every caption.
3. Check every SFX.
4. Check every interface label.
5. Check character attribution.
6. Check spelling.
7. Check punctuation.
8. Ensure no invented dialogue appears.
9. Ensure no dialogue is missing.
10. Ensure no text is accidentally duplicated.

ABSOLUTE RULE:

If the image generator cannot reliably render the required text, prioritize clean professional artwork and leave clearly designed caption/speech-bubble areas for later lettering rather than generating incorrect text.

Never invent replacement dialogue.

17 — VISUAL STORYTELLING RULE

Do not rely only on dialogue.

The environment must communicate information.

Show:

- technology through interfaces
- history through architecture
- danger through lighting
- scale through perspective
- emotion through expressions
- mystery through negative space
- consciousness through environmental
